FOREWORD

"I am the light of the world.

He who follows Me does not walk in the darkness, but will have the light of life."— John 8:12

The source of shadow is light; and on the intensity of the light depends the strength of the shadow.

We, the followers of Christ, dwell in the light of His divinity and draw our strength from His infinite power and radiance.

And as we bring ourselves nearer to Christ the Light,
we more perfectly mirror His image to others.

Our years at Conaty have not only enlightened our intellects, but have also revealed that the only light which can fully illuminate our life's purpose and destiny is Christ, the Light of the World.

ARCHDIOCESE OF LOS ANGELES

1531 WEST NINTH STREET
LOS ANGELES 15, CALIFORNIA

DUnkirk 8-8101

November Twenty-sixth

To the Graduates of
BISHOP CONATY MEMORIAL HIGH SCHOOL

The sculptors have long striven to reproduce in marble or stone even a suggestion of the spiritual force of Christ, "The Light of the World".

This is a concept that stretches out far beyond the sphere of human vision, and which encompasses the supernatural that is equally real and so much a part of our every day lives.

Christ, the Guiding Light of the World; Christ, the Sustaining Light of the World; Christ the Sanctifying Light of the World, should ever be our Beacon Light.

Praying for you all, the blessings and protection of Our Lady, I am

Faithfully yours in Christ,

ARCHBISHOP

10

Los Angeles

Most Reverend Timothy Manning, D.D.

Dear Graduates:

In Rome for the feast of St. Agnes in the basilica named in her honor, two gaily-decked lambs are brought in elaborate procession to be blessed on the altar at the conclusion of High Mass. They are solemnly blessed and then brought to the Holy Father for his personal blessing. Subsequently, they are cared for in the garden of some convent. When their wool is shorn, it is woven into a narrow circular band with two pendants. This is called the Pallium. These pallia are then placed in a casket at the tomb of St. Peter.

When an Archbishop is elevated to an archdiocesan see, the Holy Father sends a Pallium to him which is to be worn over his shoulders as a sign of his jurisdiction on the occasion of solemn ceremonies. The Pallium, therefore, represents graphically the Good Shepherd carrying around His shoulders the lamb that symbolizes His tender care for His flock, especially the little ones thereof.

It is eminently appropriate, therefore, that this issue of the school annual edited under the Pallium should adopt for its theme the relationship between the little ones of the flock and the Good Shepherd, the Light of the World. May each and every one of the pupils at Bishop Conaty Memorial High School be ever worthy of the affection and tender care of the Master Whom they pledge to serve.

Very sincerely yours,

Dunorny manning

TIMOTHY MANNING Auxiliary Bishop of Los Angeles Vicar General

Most Reverend Alden J. Bell, D.D.

Dear Students of the Class of 1958:

To know that on this whirling bit of burnt out stardust that we call this earth you have a mission from Almighty God and for Him, which no one else in the universe can discharge, is a challenge to the best that is in you.

A few short years ago you were absolutely nothing. Now you throb with life that you may reflect God among men.

You, who by many are regarded as completely negligible in importance, are on this earth by God's command, and thanks to His continued action, that you might show forth some shadow of Omnipotence and make manifest in your own particular way that goodness which is the very essence of God.

What a mission is yours! May God bring you to its understanding and to its fulfillment.

Sincerely in Christ,

ALDEN J. BELI
Auxiliary Bishop of Los Angeles

DEDICATION

The setting for the unselfish work of ite and Jose weeker were has changed, but his dedicated effort to the es.

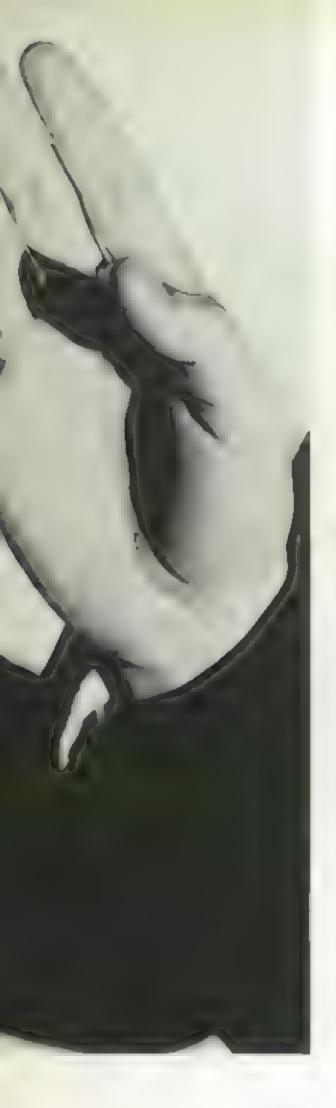

For the past eleven years. Conary provided the bacter and in which Father gave of himself as priest, administrator and macher.

Now at the Chapel of Our Saviour on the University of Southern California campus, Father Weyer serves as pastor of the parish, chaplain of the Newman Club and apole getics instructor, devoting his time to the spiritual and intellectual development of the students.

We, the Highlander class of 1958, in gratitude to Father Weyer, dedicate our Pallium to him and pray that the light of God's grace may be cast upon his priestly life.

In the shadow of His hand

Symbolizing the powers of the priest, the benediction blessing falls on over 1,100 girls daily.

Maintaining positions as principal and vice-principal, Father John J. Reilly and Father Joseph Sartoris serve as Conaty's head administrators.

Providing material counsel and spiritual guidance, they lose no opportunity to advise and direct their students.

Instructing classes in apologetics and marriage,
Father Reilly and Father Sartoris turn their teachings toward the spiritual and mental development of every soul placed in their care.

He hath protected me and hath made me as a chosen arrow. Isaias 49:2

Reverend John J. Reilly Principal

My dear Seniors:

As the shadows of each day fall, the world looks forward to the morning and its brightness. You are about to see the last shadows fall in the corridors of the school of your youth. The brightness of tomorrow always depends on the personal outlook of each individual. You will cast many shadows, but the important matter is how and where you will shadow yourselves. The world today looks forward to the good that people can do. The shadow of goodness is indeed a desirable effect for all of us.

The Faculty of Bishop Conaty High School here attempted to lead you to the things which give of goodness. It is now your responsibility to take this goodness and through your actions shadow to the world the good which is in you. The Church of which you share is the principal source of goodness because of its Divine foundation by Christ. It is then the source of all goodness.

There is nothing more effective in the society of men than a good woman. A woman who is for all the ful fillment of God's wish and desire constitutes the concrete good in the world. Womanhood is by its nature in God's desire the instrument for goodness. Each of you shares in this sacred heritage and as Christian women, the world will be better for your influence.

The Shadow of Our Lady in this year of anniversary is one which we hope and pray will constantly dominate your lives. With Christ as the Image and His Biessed Mother as the Mirror, no woman can abandon the influence of such a striking shadow.

God bless you,

John J. Reilly

Father Joseph Sartoris, vice-principal, leaves no room for a shadow of doubt when teaching his senior apologetics and marriage classes.

To keep attendance records straight, Sister Mary As sumpta, SM, records the daily attendance. As Dean of the Upper Division, Sister also spends much time advising and assisting girls in their day to day problems.

Of the many influences which aid in shaping the student at Conaty none casts a greater shadow than the guiding hand of the faculty.

So it is that each graduate looks back with gratitude to the understanding and interest of her teachers, religious and lay.

From their instruction and example she has learned the joy of living in the shadow of His love.

S. B. Officers, Student Leaders

Student Body officers have the responsibility of representing all the students, and of directing many school activities and assemblies. All students look to them for example and guidance.

Working in the shadow of the officers' leadership, each organization strives to fulfill the purpose for which it was formed. At the same time, these clubs build and develop spirit and friendship among the students.

"...slug...guideline...sub-head..." These strange sounding words issuing forth from room 201 tell passers-by that the journalism class is busy getting out an edition of the Campus Rumors. Directed by Sister M. Jerome, I.H.M., the Campus Rumors staff publishes the school paper five times a year. A special green Christmas edition, featuring articles by guest journalists from the English classes, adds a dash of fun and color to the year's schedule.

As the deadline nears, tension grows and tempers shorten. Sharon Sink, Marie Harmel, Ersilia Gunn, Margaret Hammer and Shirley Skiles work to complete an edition of the Campus Rumors.

Pallium Staff Edits Annual

Early in September members of the Pallium staff, under the direction of Sister Mary Carol, I.H.M., began to encounter weighty problems of layout, copy, patrons, typing, and photography

Selecting a theme and cover design for the 1958 Pallium was their first task. The shadow theme, division pages and thus the black cover evolved from numerous staff discussions

The layout and editorial staffs began exper menting with page designs, while the bis ness staff laurehed the patr nidrive, results of which exceeded all expectations. Mr. Jack Christy and Bilt Christy with their cameras came to be a familiar sight around Conaty

Generous staff members forfeited many a Saturday and holiday in order to meet deadline dates. As each deadline approached, tension mounted; there always seemed to be one more picture to be taken, or one more caption to be written. After dispatching the last copy and picture in their layout envelope to the lithographer, there remained only the task of checking the returned proofs, arranging for circulation, putting the file in order for '58-'59

Cecilians Unite in Harmony

Glee Club members under the direction of Sister Miriam Rose, C.S.C. perform at Open House, the Christmas entertainment, Senior Play, Awards Assembly and graduation exercises. The group also enters the Music Festival at Mount St. Mary's College. This year the club received the honor of singing at the Chestimes Banquet. These activities are an expression of the club's purpose — to bring enjoyment and appreciation of music to others while providing members with the opportunity of choral self-expression.

Orchestra Provides Enjoyment

The Orchestra's two-fold purpose is artistic expression and stimulation of music appreciation. Members perform for various occasions during the year: Open House, the Christmas entertainment, Senior Play, Awards Assembly and graduation exercises. The group also participates in the annual Music Festival at Mount St. Mary's College. Major George G. Hirning conducts the orchestra.

To attain the proper mellowness from the woodwind instruments, musicians must be skilled. The following girls preparing to practice are Eva Lieblang, Sheila Mullen, Lillian Tessier, Ingrid Klopp, Patricia Klecka, Hope Perez; (second row) Althea Saulet, Patricia Rodriguez and Anna Geraldino

Sandalers In Spotlight

Through dramatic demonstrations, workshops and plays, the Masque and Sandals club, directed by Sister Agnes Marie, I.H.M., strives to promote an interest in the theater. Highlighting the club's activities was the presentation of "The Lost Princess" which merited second place at the Immaculate Heart Drama Festival. Every Masque and Sandaler aspires to become a member of the Thespians, a national honor society for girls who excel in dramatics. Wide experience in acting and crew work, frequent attendance at plays, and generous participation in the business end of the club's activities are the requirements for this coveted position.

Forensics, Speakers All

The Forensic League provides members with the opportunity to develop self-expression and to meet students from other schools. Membership in the Catholic Forensic League as well as the Southern California Debate League enables speakers to enter numerous tournaments. Officers plan and direct activities with Sister Mary Lenore, I.H.M., moderator.

Art Guild Provides School Decor

Members of the Art Guild, through the use of their creative talents, provide publicity for various school activities. Under the guidance of Sister M. Ellenette, B.V.M., many students have become winners of city and nationwide art contests. One of the club's contributions is the life size papier mache Nativity scene which appears in the foyer during the Christmas season.

Art Guild officers deciding on the subject for the Lext by etin board are President Linda Adrain, Vice-president Linda Lee, Secretary Arlene Espinosa, Treasurer Ann De Vargas, Committee chairman Jo Marie Taylor

Staging pupper shows is a popular activity of the Art Guild The girls tashion the puppers out of papier mache and construct the sets for these projects. #### Spirit Wins

"Conaty pep and go" shone at the Fourteenth Annual Saint Anthony's Tournament as the Beavers copped the coveted spirit award. In addition, Dee Dee Kinney brought further honor to the school by being named to the second all-tournament team once again this year.

The Beavers were off to a fine start as they dumped Queen of Angels (34-26). In the second game they squeezed by Sacred Heart of Mary (20-18). The third encounter brought defeat as Immaculate Heart dropped them (35-29) In a close fought game, the Saint Mary's Bells edged away from the Beavers in the final quarter defeating them (64-49).

"Till the day break, and the shadows retire..." Canticle 2:17

Looking through the kaleidoscope of her four years, every Conaty girl recalls the pattern of lights and shadows which will ever remain silhouetted in her memory.

Illuminating rays of spiritual vision cast by retreats,
Mass, sacraments, Marian devotions shaped her halo of holiness.

Penetrating the darkness of ignorance, streams of light etched the sharp outline of wisdom
as she pursued scholastic achievement in quest of truth.

Glimmering beams flickered gaily to reflect her excitement during Spirit Week, class games, Field Day, various campaigns and drives.

Momentary shades of disappointments and discouragement could not dim the spirited brightness of united activity.

Leaving these lights, now the cherished shadows of the past, the Conaty girl looks to the challenging rays of the future.

A young girl becomes the frosh of today, senior of tomorrow, when she takes her place in high school society at the ladder's bottom. New experiences, such as gym classes, foreign languages, and vocal music present themselves to the freshman student. The Skipper Class of '61, in their Columbia blue sweaters, sailed through their first year with green and white pompoms flying. Throughout Conaty's drives and rallies the spirited Skippers consistently portrayed the Beaver virtue of perserverance.

Steering the freshmen through their first high school year, Skipper navigators Erna Weiss and Irene Takenaka served as guides and leaders for the class of '61

Heading the Sophomore Class, Stella Muro and Adrienne Lembeye both hold seats on the Student Council. Nominated and elected by members of their class, these girls sparked Royalette spirit througout the year.

Sophomore courses in fashion and flavor, noted by the appearance of bright cotton prints and the tantalizing aroma of home-baked donuts, added zest to a program of language, mathematics, religion, history, and English. The red and white class, Conaty's Royalettes, has marked this year with many firsts, including Service Board responsibilities, their entertainment "I Remember Papa," attendance at the fall and New Year's dances — Broomstick Ball and Confetti Cascade. Trim National blue sweaters took their honorary positions at assemblies and rallies as the Royalettes yielded lower places to the freshmen, who at the same time inherited a rich share of Conaty spirit.

"Royalettes! We are the class of '60 . . .." sang sophomore cheerleaders Eileen Fortin, Peggy Wisner, Jamie Bell and Irene Montana. As the Royalette peprousers for 1957-'57, these girls spent many hours planning rallies, new cheers, Field Day and class games

History Highlights

Sporting traditional green and white "frosh" buttons, the Class of '58 first walked through Conaty's portals. Now they emerge in snowy caps and gowns, but the intervening years have been their most memorable.

With Sue Miller and Kathleen O'Marr as leaders, the Highlanders met their first chance to prove themselves in the annual Spirit Week and Initiation. Their entertain-ment starred Leilani Shield and Amelia Rosas as "Hansel and Gretel."

Highlanders of '58

Presenting various talents, "Big Top Time" began a year guided by Judy White and Dee Dee Engelhard! Conaty invited sophs to the "Fish and Swirl" and "Snow Ball" and they eagerly attended. Highlander field day float "Babes in Toyland" featured a homemade carousel.

Toni Magliocco, Linda and Flora Cano cheered the "HMS Pinafore" into a Highlander port while social "highlights" included "Blue Moon," "Crystal Nocturne and a first prom, Student body elections climaxed the year

Blue, White Spark Classes

Stepping into the place of honor at Conaty, the Highlanders of '58 began their fast-moving year in September with a flash of blue and sparks of white proclaiming their past three years of service. Highlighting their classes, the Highlanders found something new and interesting in studying apologetics and marriage. The "uncaused cause" and theory of evolution provoked thoughts and raised questions in every class.

Extra Activities Prove '58 Spirit

In order to greet properly the incoming students, the mighty seniors adopted "little sisters" and gave them a royal Siamese initiation complete with box-lunches and battered knees. What frosh or senior can forget that day of "Hail, O mighty senior"? These were also the days of hidden portables, World Series scores, volleyball encounters, and Sputnik spottings.

Control Members Strive for Safety

Under the direction of Sister Mary Assumpta, dean of the upper division, the Senior Control sets the pace of high standards for Conaty. Taking their posts daily these staunch seniors are found before school and between classes, in the yard or cafeteria, on rainy days or in June's heat "on duty." For the purpose of maintaining order, Highlanders give of their time and energies unselfishly.

Membership on the Senior Control is considered an honor by all Conaty girls. Out of the many seniors who show outstanding leadership, spirit and cooperation a select few to uphold Conaty's discipline by their own good example.
